TRADERS COMMITMENT

YOU ARE A STUDENT!

You are learning something new. The key is to commit to learning and commit to no judgements until you have fully committed to the education and learning for 3-6 months.

This is your mission statement

"I am a student learning a skill that can pay me for the rest of my life. I am under no pressure to begin to trade live. I have no reason to rush. I will take my time and get what I paid for, which is education. I understand IM mastery academy is an educational platform. When I tell Others about IM, I tell them just that. If anyone wants to know if I have made money trading, I will tell them the truth, that I am a student at the moment and instead of sharing my amount, I share my progress since I have joined.

I understand there is no real difference from this educational platform and going to any college or trade school. When students join colleges or trade schools, they are not expected to be excellent at their trade or major within the first few weeks or even within the first few years. I too will give myself an appropriate amount of time to improve my skill and craft. I will not rush myself or allow anyone else to rush me. I will not compare myself to other's skill level because I am unique. I complete only with myself. I give myself permission to take my time, pace myself, develop, and perfect my skill."

YOUR WHY, WHY HAVE YOU JOINED IM?

Your WHY is the most pivotal part in enrolling with IM Mastery Academy. Your why is the underlying reason as to why you have made a decision to join IM. Your why must be so powerful that it causes you to push through any and every adversity in order to make trading a success. Your why could be family related, it could be purpose related, it could be career or project related. Whatever your reasons, explore and think deeply about your why. Without a strong compelling reason why, it is more than likely you will quit on your own financial success with IM.

Questions to consider:

What would it mean to you to become successful here?

What would the outcome be when you achieve the goals that you have set for yourself?

Why is it important for you to achieve your goals?

What are the consequences for you not being successful in this?

Consider arranging a list of short-term goals / Mid-term goals/ Long term goals and a vision board to keep you on track

Always keep your WHY at the forefront of you mind and you will become successful.

Please consider sharing this with you mentor, so they can hold you accountable.
